

Name:

Section:

Date:

It's just a phase!

The Journey of a Water Molecule

Due Date: Thursday 10/28

Assignment:

The sky is the limit! (Literally). For this assignment you will chronicle the day in the life of a water molecule as it changes from one phase to another. To do this you must become a water molecule and use your creativity to explain what is happening to you as you travel through the three common phases of matter on Earth; solid, liquid, and gas. Below you will find some ideas and rubrics for this assignment to guide you.

What should it look like?

- Poem
- Song
- Diary entry
- Comic Strip
- Narrative
- Theatrical production including several high powered Broadway classics. (just kidding)

How long should it be?

One typed page double spaced for written assignments or two minutes for any presentations.

How will it be graded?

Content : 40

Creativity: 10

What happens if I turn it in late?

You will lose 10 points for every school day the assignment is late.

Name:

Section:

Date: